LET'S HEAR FROM...

What is Bullying?

DEFINITION OF BULLYING

"Bullying is the repeated, intentional hurting of someone by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power."

'Hurting' can mean physically (e.g. hitting someone) or emotionally (e.g. saying mean things).

'Repeated' – Bullying normally happens more than once.

'Intentional' - It is done on purpose (not by accident).

The person or group may think they are better, stronger, smarter than the other person.

What is Bullying?

Brooke!

Bullying is a repetitive and a mean thing.

There are different types of bullying such as social bullying, cyber bullying and also physical bullying.

Social bullying is where someone is saying rude things to you.
Cyber bullying is where they are saying mean things online.
Physical bullying is where you punch, kick or even hit!

no one is a good or bad person we're the same inside. The person who could be bullying you could have a problem at home or ~~they~~ the bully could be bullied themselves but remember don't fight fire with fire.

Although you might be small you can still stand up for what you believe in. No one will say it is wrong.

Even if you have been through bullin-g it doesn't give a free token to bully someone else. You might find something funny but another person might find it offensive.

An eye for an eye makes the whole world blind. Tilly ERe.

A bystander is someone who watches people being bullied and doesn't help defend the victim or go and tell a responsible adult about what is happening. Never be a bystander! Be kind and helpful to everyone you meet!
